I love getting to know the ancestors I would never otherwise have come across, I love knowing that I was chosen by them to take this journey, breathing life into their once still beings, calling their names, telling their stories!

Patricia M. Armstrong Watkins Great - Great-Great Granddaughter of Basel/Bazil Dove

WE ARE THE CHOSEN

BY DELLA M. CUMMING CA 1943.

MY FEELINGS ARE IN EACH FAMILY WE ARE CALLED TO FIND THE ANCESTORS.

TO PUT FLESH ON THEIR BONES AND MAKE THEM LIVE AGAIN,

TO TELL THE FAMILY STORY AND TO FEEL THAT SOMEHOW THEY KNOW AND APPROVE.

TO ME, DOING GENEALOGY IS NOT A COLD GATHERING OF FACTS BUT, INSTEAD, BREATHING LIFE INTO ALL WHO HAS GONE BEFORE.

WE ARE THE STORY TELLERS OF THE TRIBE.
WE HAVE BEEN CALLED AS IT WERE BY OUR GENES.
THOSE WHO HAVE GONE BEFORE CRY OUT TO US:
TELL OUR STORY.
SO, WE DO.
IN FINDING THEM, WE SOMEHOW FIND OURSELVES.
HOW MANY GRAYES HAVE I STOOD BEFORE NOW AND CRIED?
I HAVE LOST COUNT.

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE I TOLD THE ANCESTORS
YOU HAVE A WONDERFUL FAMILY, YOU WOULD BE PROUD OF US?

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE I WALKED UP TO A GRAVE AND FELT SOMEHOW THERE WAS LOVE THERE FOR ME? I CANNOT SAY.

IT GOES BEYOND JUST DOCUMENTING FACTS.
IT GOES TO WHO I AM AND WHY I DO THE THINGS I DO?
IT GOES TO SEEING A CEMETERY ABOUT TO BE LOST FOREVER
TO WEEDS AND INDIFFERENCE AND SAYING I CAN'T LET THIS HAPPEN.
THE BONES HERE ARE BONES OF MY BONE AND FLESH OF MY FLESH.

IT GOES TO DOING SOMETHING ABOUT IT.
IT GOES TO PRIDE IN WHAT OUR ANCESTORS WERE ABLE TO ACCOMPLISH.
HOW THEY CONTRIBUTED TO WHAT WE ARE TODAY.
IT GOES TO RESPECTING THEIR HARDSHIPS AND LOSSES, THEIR NEVER GIVING IN OR GIVING UP.

THEIR RESOLUTENESS TO GO ON AND BUILD A LIFE FOR THEIR FAMILY.

IT GOES TO DEEP PRIDE THAT THEY FOUGHT TO MAKE AND KEEP US A NATION.

IT GOES TO A DEEP AND IMMENSE UNDERSTANDING THAT THEY WERE DOING IT FOR US THAT WE MIGHT BE BORN WHO WE ARE.

THAT WE MIGHT REMEMBER THEM.

SO WE-DO.

WITH LOYE AND CARING AND SCRIBING EACH FACT OF THEIR EXISTENCE,

BECAUSE WE ARE THEM AND THEY ARE US.

SO, AS A SCRIBE CALLED, I TELL THE STORY OF MY FAMILY.

IT IS UP TO THAT ONE CALLED IN THE NEXT GENERATION,
TO ANSWER THE CALL AND TAKE THEIR PLACE IN THE LONG LINE OF FAMILY STORYTELLERS.
THAT IS WHY I DO MY FAMILY GENEALOGY,
AND THAT IS WHAT CALLS THOSE YOUNG AND OLD TO STEP UP AND PUT FLESH ON THE BONES.

A Family Story ... The Dove Brothers of Ocean Springs, Mississippi

The story of our Great Grandfather Basel/Bazil Dove and his brother(s)

By: Patricia M. Armstrong Watkins, January 2013

1847 Slavery

With it no longer legal to enslave and bring African natives into the states of America, enslaved individuals were now brought in from other states where mainly crops like tobacco and rice were grown, these states therefore needed fewer workers than cotton growing states. In Maryland the slave population declined between the years 1830 to 1850, while Virginia's remained steady. With this shift, Louisiana's enslaved population would more than double, Alabama's tripled, and Mississippi saw the greatest increase, there's quintupled.

When Mississippi seceded from the Union in 1861, slavery was so ingrained in the state's fiber and economy that the state's leadership could not imagine a world without it. In its 1861 Articles of Secession, the third paragraph states slavery as "the greatest material interest of the world." It goes on to explain that slavery was a necessity for the state's agricultural economy because- get this "by an imperious law of nature, none but the black race can bear exposure to the tropical sun." let me repeat this twisted thinking "by an imperious law of nature, none but the black race can bear exposure to the tropical sun." It's unbelievable to read something like this in this day and age, but we have to remember it was 1861.

1860, the year before Mississippi seceded the population at Ocean Springs was 336 of which 57 were held in bondage. By 1870 the population would be 313 people of whom it is documented our ancestor's Basil and Osborne is included. Although it cannot be said with certainty if they were among the 57 enslaved individuals held in bondage in 1860 I believe they were but at this time no documentation has been found to confirm it.

Note: Basil Dove is the father of Anna Dove Smith, the mother of Great/ Grandmother Lillie Smith, the mother of Mama Margaret Williams Armstrong

We Interrupt Your Regularly Scheduled Program To Bring You The Following...

William, Basil and Osborn the three Dove boys believed to be brothers and believed borne respectfully in 1830, 1832 and 1834 are but three of our ancestors found enslaved in the 19th century. They are found or should I say their names are among 82 recorded on the Slave Manifest for the Brig General Pinckney sailing out of Baltimore, Maryland on 19 Jan 1847.

Listed as the First Shipper/Owner is the notorious slave trader Hope H Slatter known to be merciless with the men, women and children enslaved and held in his slave jail also known as a slave pen located on West Pratt Street in Baltimore. Newspaper articles and other historical documentation describes Slatter's jail as something far worse than he describes in the following ad "Cash For Negroes" which was placed in the Baltimore Sun.

> ASH FOR NEGROES.—The subscriber has built a Inrge and extensive establishment and private jail. for the keeping of SLAVES, in PRATT-ST., one door from Howard-st. opposite the Circus or Repository,

The building having been erected under his own in spection, without regard to price; planned and arrang ed upon the most approved principle, with an eye to comfort and convenience, not surpassed by any estab lishment of the kind in the United States, is now ready to receive SLAVES. The male and female apartments are completely separate—the rooms for both are large, light and airy, and all above ground, with a fine large yard for exercise, with pure delightful water within doors. In erecting and planning this edifice, the subscriber had an eye to the health and cleanliness of the slaves, as well as the many other necessary conveviences. Having a wish to accommodate my Southern friends and others in the trade. I am determined to keep them on the louest possible terms, at twenty-free cents per head a day, and furnish them with plenty of good and wholesome provisions. Such recurity and confidence I have in my building, that I hold myself bound to make good all Jail breaking, or escapes from my establishment. I also will receive, ship, or forward to any place, at the request of the owner, and give it my personal attention.

From his jail Slatter would march the chained human beings along Pratt Street to the wharf he would repeat this grim procession each time his human cargo was scheduled to meet a brig to take them south- to Louisiana, Mississippi or Alabama... this went on and on until the outcry from Baltimore's citizens forced him to switch to the horse-drawn omnibus. Many of the other traders/dealers built tunnels from their jails to the wharf.

A horse-drawn omnibus the type used by Hope H Slatter in Baltimore, MD to transport the men, women and children from his slave jail/pens to awaiting brig at the First Street wharf near the Baltimore harbor

While waiting in the Slatter jail the enslaved had the large hot treeless courtyard to idle away the day but by night they were locked in small windowless hot cells waiting be sold and/or shipped to various southern cities most probable like our ancestors Grandpa Basel and his brothers they waited for the brig that would carry them south to be sold mainly at New Orleans or Mobile...

they waited to begin the next chapter of their lives, not knowing if that chapter would include being with each other or separated, sold away, never to see each other again which was always a real possibility.

Our Dove ancestors, Grandpa Basel, his brothers and the others aboard the brig sailed for weeks before reaching their final destination. New Orleans. Upon arriving and disembarking the General Pinckney on Feb 2, 1847 they were more than likely taken to 56 Esplanade St, the slave pen of Slatter's New Orleans counterpart. Here again they would wait but this time they were probably waiting to be placed on the auction block at either the St. Louis Hotel or the on-premise block much like the one Slatter had at his jail in Baltimore.

New Orleans, La., old slave block in the St. Louis Hotel

Public Auction

What hand were the brothers dealt at New Orleans? What was their fate, their dash 1847-1870? Why 1870, because this is the year freed persons those formally enslaved are enumerated on the Federal Census by name, thereafter we only have to follow the paper trail. So until we can find the answers for the beginning of the dash we may never know their fate for certain- just more questions; Who were they sold to? Did they remain in New Orleans or somewhere else in Louisiana? Were they sold to someone from Mississippi and taken there? Did they have other siblings? And of course the big one who were their parents, who were their people?

Fortunately, we can reconstruct pieces of the lives over the next thirty (30) years for two of the brothers, 1870 to 1900 at Ocean Springs, MSI. These two brothers are married; Basel married about 1855 to Francis maid surname unknown at this time, they have eight (8) children and Osborne is married to Sarah again surname is unknown, the census lists one (1) son but actually they have another daughter enumerated in the household of Uncle Osborne and they may possibly have another daughter whose where about was unknown in 1870. At this time what happen to William is unknown, the answer to that question as with the other unanswered questions may lie in some of the 165 year-old documents in New Orleans, probably in plain sight...

As previously mention it would be in the 1870 Federal Census before Basil and Osborn are located again but this time it would be at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. The census lists Basel's age as 45, his birthplace is the Dist. Of Columbia, he is married to Francis her date of birth estimation is 1841, others in the household are their children; Daniel 16, Ann 14, Mary 13,

Charles 10, Emma 8, *Berthenia (Betina) 6, Rufus 4, James 3. Note: Ann would become our Daddy's Great-Grandmother

County Road Church

"Although organized in 1867, it appears that the Black Methodists at Ocean Springs did not erect their sanctuary until 1873. It was in July 1873, that Edward Chase and Elizabeth W. Chase of St. Louis, Missouri, through their attorney-in-fact, George A. Cox (1811-1887), sold the N/2 of Lot 8, Block 30 (Culmseig Map of 1854) for $50, to the Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Alfred Stewart (1836-1900+), Warner Lyman, Basile Dove (1815-1870+), and Harry Blount (1808-1889+). This lot situated on the southwest corner of present day Government Street and General Pershing was described in the warranty deed as having a front of 112 feet on County Road (Government Street) and 91.5 feet on Goos (General Pershing). (JXCO Land Deed Bk. 58, pp. 467-468)" (By: Ray L. Bellande) Note: Harry Blount is the husband of GGG-Grandmother Johanna Smith Blount; Warner Lyman is the grandfather of Cousin Polk and G-Grandfather of Cousin Eva White.

As you look at the census schedules you will see coal burner as an occupation take a look at the above 1880 census for Great Grand Uncle Osborne. The charcoal trade was developed between Vancleave merchants and those of the city of New Orleans. The charcoal makers, called "coal burners", are found in the Federal Census occupation column those listed with this occupation sold or bartered their forest products with local merchants. Charcoal a smokeless fuel, used primarily for cooking was made from the branches and other parts of the pine tree or hardwood trees, not suitable for lumber. This valueless timber was cut and stacked into teepee-shaped piles, called kilns, and covered with earth. The wood was heated in this oxygen poor environment until it was carbonized, resulting in charcoal. There were generally many kilns burning in the region which resulted in an almost permanent haze or smog in the local atmosphere. Citation: Ocean Springs Archives ... by: Ray L. Bellande

Occupations...

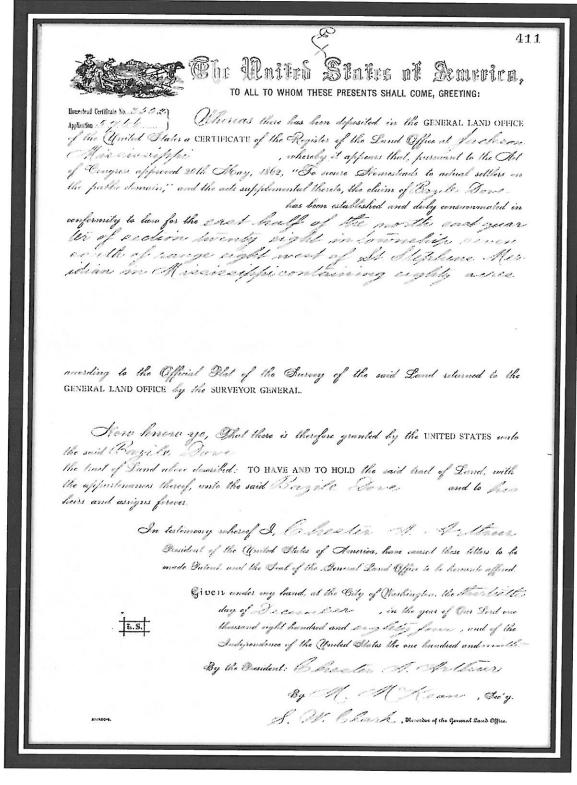

Besides Char Coal Burner many of the men were farmers, laborers or ministers. The women mostly stayed at home as housekeepers, midwives, root doctors, seamstress or laundress, but some did work in the white folks homes as caretakers, servants and cooks. As the 1890's, were upon us occupations included watermen and firemen for the railroad companies, carpenters, and teachers, entrepreneurs and storekeepers. Our people always seemed to make a way out no way!

Jumping the Broom

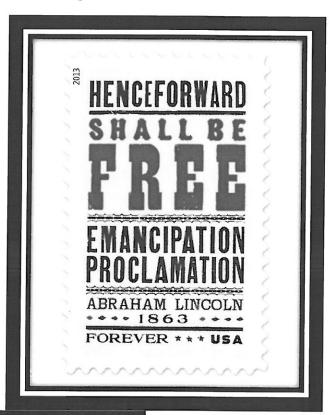

The broom has both symbolic and spiritual importance in the African culture. The ritual itself was created by our ancestors during slavery. Because slaves could not legally marry, they created their own rituals to honor their unions. Some say broom jumping comes from an African tribal marriage ritual of placing sticks on the ground representing the couple's new home.

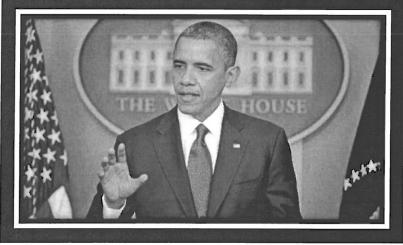

The straws of the broom represent family; the handle represents the Almighty; the ribbon represents the tie that binds the couple together.

I wonder if in 1855 when Grandpa Bazil and Grandmother Francis married did they jump the broom, did they follow the tradition of slave/enslaved marriages.

This year on January 1, 2013, we celebrated the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation which put into motion an end to slavery. However it would take another two years before the country saw an end to the war. The war that saw blood run like a river thought-out the southland but the inevitable did happen... freedom did come to our ancestors, Grandpa Bazil, Grand Uncle Osborne and a host other relatives. So, as we acknowledge this event the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation, we celebrate the end to slavery, we celebrate the second term of the first African American President of the United States... our POTUS Barack Hussein Obama II, 44th president of the United States.

The U.S. Postal Service commemorated the 150th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation with a limited edition stamp.

President Barack Hussein Obama, II

Description:

Though an 1807 law banned the trans-Atlantic slave trade to the United States as of 1 January 1808, slaves could still be bought and sold—and transported—within the country. The same law that banned the foreign slave trade also regulated the internal transportation of slaves, requiring masters of vessels carrying slaves in costal waters to provide a manifest detailing their slave cargo when leaving ("outward") or entering ("inward") a port. Ports of departure or intended arrival stretched from Baltimore, Maryland, to Texas on the Gulf of Mexico. Those required slave manifests, provided by ships entering or leaving from the port at New Orleans, make up the records in this database.

DNA Deoxyribonucleic Acid

Ancestry Composition tells you what percent of your DNA comes from each of 22 populations worldwide. The analysis includes DNA you received from all of your ancestors, on both sides of your family. The results reflect where your ancestors lived 500 years ago, before ocean-crossing ships and airplanes came on the scene. These results are as of December 2012.
